The Evolution of the Framework

In 2015, a small group of sporting leaders committed to improving gender equality in sport and devoting the required time and resources, came together as the Champions of Change Sport Group.

In 2019, we stepped up to take action and report on progress annually against a newly developed set of measures that were created to define and transparently track progress towards our goal. The groundbreaking first report sought to capture the picture of gender equality in individual organisations, and collectively inform and guide our work.

The reporting in the Pathway to Gender Equality in Sport has three important development stages:

Stage 1 – Development of a framework and commitment to transparent reporting

In 2019, together with McKinsey & Company, we collaboratively developed a framework for reporting on 26 measures across 5 categories (leadership, participation, pathways, investment and practical actions).

Dedicated staff members in each organisation completed the annual report for the first time. The level of detail provided, consistency of measurement approaches and ability to compare metrics across organisations varied significantly by organisation, as for some, it was the first time collecting this information.

We shared a strong vision and commitment to collective outcomes on gender equality. However, each organisation had a different starting point.

Stage 2 – Establishing baseline data, testing and assessing the framework, and developing a consistent set of meaningful measures

In this year of reporting (2019–2020), we are in Stage 2. Through each annual reporting process, we work to develop an increasingly robust and consistent repository of collective data, and share our learnings. This continues to be a challenge with a group of disparate sporting organisations: representing federated sports, professional teams, national and state-based organisations. We are refining our reporting to move from capturing the baseline to developing year-on-year analysis and ensuring that reporting adds insight, and drives action that delivers impact.

In this second year of reporting, we see progress across a number of measures. However, we acknowledge that some of these measures still need to be refined and that the data must then inform specific action plans to accelerate progress.

Stage 3 – Shifting focus to the data informing our strategy, and extending the series of practical actions from each report

The annual report includes data consistently tracked by each organisation, and in the future, it is envisaged that this will inform a comprehensive action plan to accelerate progress on gender equality. The insights are shared widely, to also support broader industry progress on gender equality.

What will success look like?

Australia is a global leader in empowering women and girls through sport and physical activity

Women and girls from all backgrounds have a lifelong love and engagement in sport and physical activity

Women and girls are inspired by, feel welcome, and have equality of opportunity to participate, lead and work in all aspects of sport and physical activity

Women and men play in similar competitions for equal pay and prize money

Infrastructure is in place for women and men to participate in the sport they choose

Women who play and lead in sport are equally valued, recognised and celebrated

Australia is a desired destination for international investment in women participating in sport

Quotas and industry standards are no longer needed for women in sport and physical activity

The Assessment Framework was developed by the Champions of Change Coalition and McKinsey & Company in consultation with all Member sporting organisations in 2019 and adopted as part of the 'No Boundaries – A National Strategy for Women and Girls in Sport' which was launched by the Australian Women in Sport Advisory Group and Champions of Change in February 2020.

The pathway

We worked with McKinsey & Company, our teams and local, national and international sector leaders to develop a robust approach to accelerate progress on gender equality and pay equality in sport. The framework can be adopted or adapted for use by sports organisations of all sizes.

Our progress

On the following pages, we share our progress and outcomes on the pathway to gender equality in sport

Our progress and outcomes

The Champions of Change Sport Group includes 20 Members across national, state and professional club environments.

Members are focused on advancing gender equality, including advancing more and diverse women into leadership positions; developing more inclusive sporting cultures; and pay equity.

A particular priority has been the development of a framework to measure and track progress.

In our second year of reporting on the framework, there are a number of overall key positive movements towards equality. However, the Sport Group also recognises that there is some way to go in achieving equality, particularly in terms of women in leadership and progress towards pay equity for athletes.

Highlights for 2019–2020

35.3% of organisations have achieved gender balance of Board Directors (40–60%) ↑ from 29.4% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

49.5% of total funded development pathway opportunities are for female athletes ↑ from 39.0% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

47.1% of organisations have achieved equity in prize money for elite athletes/teams ↑ from 43.8% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

100% of organisations have achieved equal access to resources for elite athletes ↑ from 87.5% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

53.7% of promotion and public appearance opportunities are allocated to women athletes ↑ from 19.9% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

34.9% of promotional/marketing spend is dedicated to women in sport/women's competition ↑ from 22.8% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

52.4% of budget is dedicated to building women in sport at elite level ↑ from 49.4% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

91.8% of total facilities accommodate women's participation needs (e.g. equal access to change room facilities) ↑ from 72.3% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

30.8% women's representation in Key Management Personnel ↓ from 38.2% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

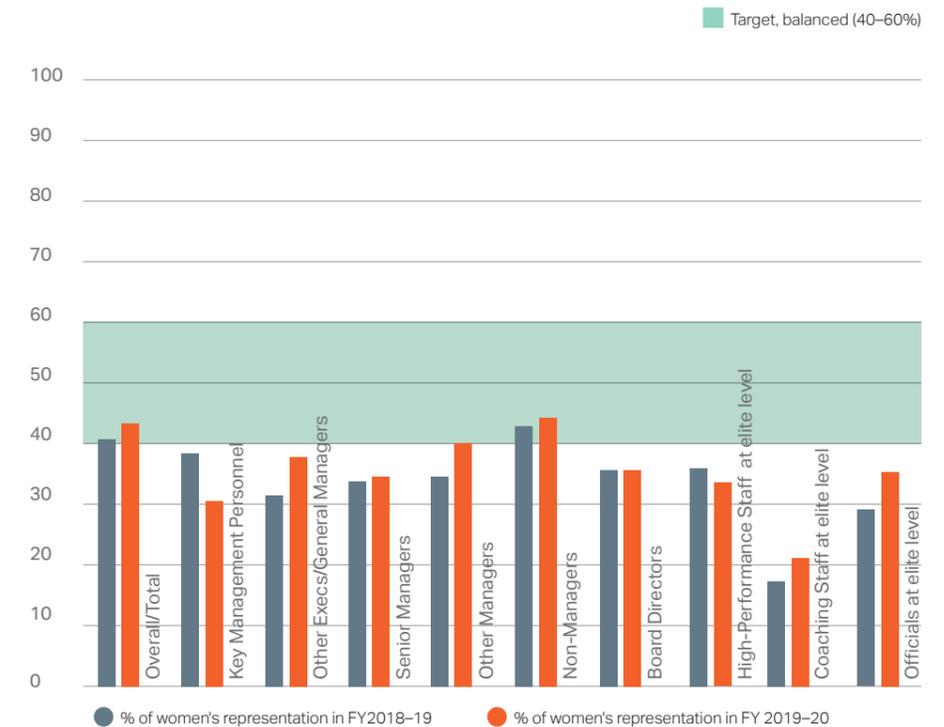

33.8% women's representation in High Performance Roles ↓ from 35.8% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

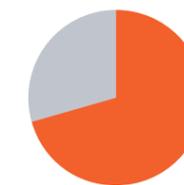

Leadership

Advance more women into leadership positions and develop respectful and inclusive sporting cultures

Women's representation in leadership across Sport Members

70.6% have a diversity and inclusion policy including an action plan ↑ from 64.7% when first reported for FY 2018–19.

94.1% have implemented flexible working policies = to the data reported for FY 2018–19.

We will work with our stakeholders to accelerate the pace of change over the coming years and evaluate and report on our progress annually.

1. Data based on the NBL and WNBL games, does not include finals and international opportunities.
2. Data based on the Basketball Australia (BA) COE Scholarships.
3. This includes investments in the WNBL competition which is considered a key element of the female High Performance pathway.
4. National teams athletes are paid a standard per diem. BA does not have access to pay equity data as professional contracts are managed through WNBL and NBL which are separate entities to BA.
5. This process is managed by WNBL and NBL, as such BA does not have the relevant data.

- Figures are estimated based on International Matches, including friendlies, AFC or FIFA competitions.
- Data based on emerging Matildas Programs in Sydney, Brisbane and Melbourne. Please note that FFA provides scholarships for women but does not manage development pathways for men, as this is managed at a club level.
- Equal access to resources, travel and accommodation was achieved, as per the recent 2019–2023 Collective Bargaining Agreement. As per this agreement, teams must be staffed and treated equally for Senior Women and Senior Men teams.
- FFA delivered a groundbreaking 50/50 split of National Teams' commercial revenue for the Matildas and Socceroos. This unique deal in Australian sport demonstrates the commitment of the Socceroos to achieve 50/50 gender participation by 2027.

FOOTNOTES

- Not applicable as playing opportunities are determined by Official World Golf Rankings.
- Growth is measured by tracking crowd attendance at the Women's Australian Open. Attendance continues to grow upon previous record crowds.
- Players receive the same unit of investment regardless of gender, it is the number of players in the pathway that creates the difference.
- Not applicable as elite athletes are compensated based on the purse for each tournament they play.
- Data based on Victorian Open Equal Prize Money for men and women. For FY 2019-20 the women's prize money was 3.8% higher than the men's.

FOOTNOTES

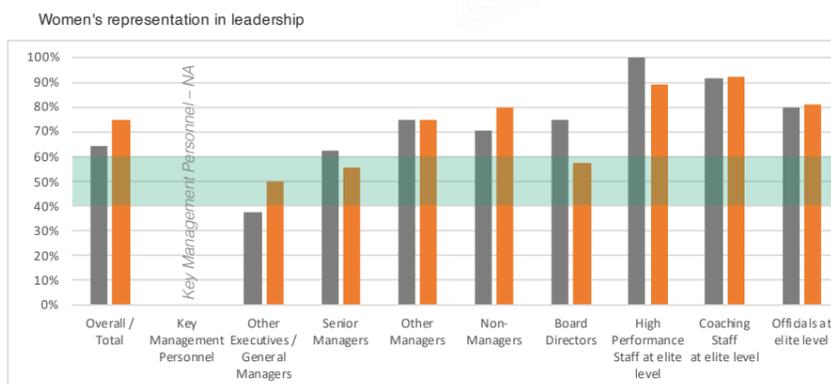

- The reported data comprises registrations from 1/12/2019 to 31/10/2020 for the 2020 Season. This data represents the effects of COVID-19 on participation rates and does not reflect the typical number of registered participants at a grassroots level.
- 2020 WSOO and SOO were postponed due to COVID-19 from June 2020 to November 2020 and therefore excluded from this reporting period.
- Data based on NRLW and NRLW 2019 Grand Final viewership.
- The 2020 National Championship (scheduled for May 2020) was canceled due to COVID-19. This is a key pathway opportunity for non-NRLW athletes to move into the elite space. In 2021, the National Championships will be held and funded by the NRL. Pathways outside the National Championships are run by the state leagues.
- Whole of game strategy is a work-in-process with a plan to execute it in 2021. The plan was delayed due to COVID-19.
- No specific policy exists; however, there is an expectation that elite players are afforded the same level of accommodation and travel.
- Data does not include women's earning opportunities through Jillaroos, WSOO or Marquee contracts.

FOOTNOTES

- Racing Victoria does not survey our licensed and registered persons on this measure.
- Data does not include Jumps Jockeys B or Picnic Jockeys
- Women and men compete in the same races and are afforded the same opportunities; however, this metric does not include the allocation of those opportunities to women.
- Data based on participating apprentices of the apprenticeship jockey program.
- Investment based on the apprenticeship jockey program. Participating apprentices have equal access to resources funded under this program.
- Promotional activities are generated as a result of performance, milestones and other factors. Promotions are driven by campaigns managed by Racing Victoria and will have a gender lens applied.
- Marketing spend is not split by gender in racing as men and women compete alongside each other.
- Elite jockey athletes are developed through the apprentice jockey program noted above.
- Ride fees and prize money is equal for male and female jockeys. The opportunity to be awarded the ride is the distinguishing factor.

Definitions

Key Management Personnel (KMP) – Key Management Personnel refers to those persons who have authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the individual entity, directly or indirectly, including any director (whether executive or otherwise) of that entity, in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards Board AASB124. A defining feature of this category is the leaders' influence is at the entity level. They are likely to be functional heads such as head of operations or head of finance and direct how that component contributes to the entity's outcome, with a strategic focus. The KMP is a manager who represents at least one of the major functions of the organisation and participates in organisation-wide decisions with the CEO/head of business (or equivalent). This category does not include the CEO/head of business.

Other Executives/General Managers – Other executives/general managers hold primary responsibility for the equivalent of a department or a business unit within an individual entity. In a large organisation, this manager might not participate in organisation-wide decisions with the CEO/head of business (or equivalent) of the individual entity. Alternatively, this manager could have influence in organisation-wide decision-making forums to provide expertise or project development but because they do not actually hold authority at an entity level, they would not be defined as a KMP.

Grassroots Participants – Grassroots participants are any able-bodied athlete or athlete with disabilities committed to regular training and formal or informal competition. This includes pre-elite athletes, athletes that are gaining formalised and professional support for continued development.

Senior Managers – Senior managers are charged with one or more defined functions, departments or outcomes within an individual entity. They are more likely to be involved in a balance of strategic and operational aspects of management of the individual entity. Some decision-making at this level would require approval from either of three management levels above it in the individual entity. Senior managers are responsible for resourcing, budget and assets (capital expenditure).

Other Managers – Other managers plan, organise, direct, control and coordinate an operational function within an individual entity. They usually oversee day-to-day operations, working within and enforcing defined company parameters. They might implement, determine, monitor and review strategies, policies and plans to meet business needs as they relate to their own function/work area in the individual entity. An 'other manager' is accountable for a defined business outcome which usually involves the management of resources that also includes time management, coordination of different functions or people, financial resources, and other assets (for example facilities or IT infrastructure). Line managers would be included in this category.

Elite-Level Athlete – An elite-level athlete is an athlete selected to represent at the highest senior levels of international or professional sport, for example, an athlete representing at the senior World Championships, Olympic or Paralympic Games; or an athlete playing at the highest levels of professional competition.

High-Performance Staff at the Elite Level – Staff involved in the physical and psychological preparation of elite athletes.

Officials at Elite Level –

- AFL Football Clubs – Officials are defined as any accredited Official that supports either the AFL and AFLW teams, including volunteers.
- Cricket Australia – Officials refer to umpires and match referees.
- Racing Victoria – Officials refer to Stewards who oversee all aspects of horse racing and the integrity of race day operations.
- Rugby Australia – Officials refer to Match Officials for the Wallabies, Wallaroos and the Australian Men and Women's 7s matches.
- Swimming Australia – Officials are appointed as volunteers on a per diem or event basis.

Equality in Sport – Equality in access, participation, facilities, development pathways and investment in sport for women and men, boys and girls.

Pay Equity in Sport – Men and women competing in the same sport receive equal pay for work of equal and comparable value. At a minimum, men and women have access to equal, fair and reasonable base pay, terms and conditions including the support that professional athletes receive such as travel and accommodation, clothing and equipment, health insurance and injury compensation.

Pay Equality in Sport – Men's and women's sport are equally valued providing men and women access to the same overall remuneration package. Achieving pay equality requires action across the entire sports ecosystem.

Pay Equity in Practice
